

Thomas H. Weidemeyer

UPS Senior Vice President,
Transportation Operations and President, UPS Airlines

“We have strategically positioned ourselves around the world to help our customers take full advantage of an expanding global economy. Our physical and virtual abilities to move goods and information will become an essential element in the design a new-world transport svstem.

Torn Weidemeyer is Senior Vice President of Transportation Operations for UPS and President of UPS Airlines. He also is a member of the UPS Management Committee, which is responsible for the day-to-day management of the company, and he has been a member of the UPS Board of Directors since 1998.

Weiderneyer began his career with UPS in 1972, after graduating from the University of North Carolina Law School. Two years later, he worked in various operations assignments in the Metro Detroit district and, in 1978, was promoted to the corporate office in the legal department.

Weidemeyer became more involved in the company’s air business in 1984 and in 1986 was promoted to District Manager of Arkansas. He later transferred to Toledo, Ohio, where he helped set up the new Northwest Ohio district. In 1989, Weidemeyer was named Manager of the Americas’ International Operation, which established the UPS delivery network throughout Central and South America.

He became Vice President and Airline Manager of UPS Airlines, a subsidiary company of UPS, in 1990 and was later elected President and Chief Operating Officer of the airline. He assumed his current post in 1998.

Weidemever is a member of the Board of Directors of the Air Transport Association of America and a member of the Military Airlift Committee. He also serves on the board of the National Center for Family Literacy, and the General Aviation Manufacturers Association.

03/06/2000 10:23 AM